

Transformative learning refers to the process by which we transform our taken-for-granted frames of reference ... to make them more inclusive, discriminating, open, emotionally capable of change, and reflective so that they may generate beliefs and opinions that will prove more true or justified to guide action.

➤ Jack Mezirow

Extended Learning (E.L.O.)

Initiating Conference, continued...

1. Anticipating this year's Growth & Proficiency learning, re-read States of Mind as Dispositions.
2. Dialogue with your partner(s) about each State of Mind in turn, focusing on how each may affect you in your Growth & Proficiency work.
3. Prior to your first pre-observation conference, re-read the Observation Principles & Practices.
4. Dialogue with your partner(s) about them, focusing on which may be most important to you and your related thinking.

